

I absolutely do not want to have anyone call to sell me anything by telephone, since I never make a purchase of anything over the phone! Some company's are trying to get around the national rules by stating that they are registered non-profits. Since when is a stock advisory company a non-profit? There's no reason for NJ not to have a tougher law, if that's what our citizens want.